

H Providence Care Hospital Kingston, Ontario

One of Ontario's leading healthcare providers, Providence Care Hospital has taken a unique step in rehabilitative health care and collocated both physical medicine, rehabilitation care and mental health programs, in one building of 270 beds.

Situated on the edge of Lake Ontario, the hospital's geometry promotes views from the patient rooms and connection to the pastoral landscape. An existing waterfront trail was incorporated along the edge of the site, and extended into the property to allow a seamless feel at the site boundary, promoting use of the grounds by the wider community. Each one of the inpatient units has a direct connection to an exterior courtyard, either at grade or as a roof terrace, to provide all patients with outdoor healing spaces.

"We are working to transform our health-care system into one that truly puts the needs of patients first," Hoskins said. "I can think of few better examples than this new hospital. This is what patient-centred healthcare looks like". - Eric Hoskins, Ontario Minister of Health and Long-Term Care, THE WHIG-STANDARD
